Storm Often Misnamed.
It is a curious fact that what is generally known in some of the eastern states as a northeastern storm, is in reality, says Popular Mechanics, of quite a contrary origin. Because a strong wind which frequently carries heavy rain is apparently driven from a northeasterly direction, it is popularly assumed in a specific area, that the storm originates somewhere in a northeastern zone, while in truth its real source is in the west or southwest. The explanation is that such a disturbance is merely an air draft of a barometric depression in the opposite direction. The storm is known as a "backblast," and is one of the conditions which cause a weather forecast to be difficult.

SCHOOL CHILDREN

Round me as they used to blow, Sweet with scents of grass and clover By the mower's scythe laid low.
And it blows the fogs that gather In my weary brain away
As the school yard's dust is scattered By the wind that stirs the hay.

I can hear the clear, dear voices Sounding from the school yard dim And the pencil lies just as I dropped it.

While the past comes stealing in. I can see the dear, dear faces I've missed so many, many years 'Till for a moment I may lose them In a blur of homesick tears.

O, to just be back in school days; When the future of each schoolmate Was as yet a tale untold.

O, to come and find the dear ones, Waiting at the door to greet me, Father, Mother, Sisters, Brothers; What a meeting that would be!

But the friends of old are scattered Far and wide, by winds of fate; Like the leaves that fell in autumn From the old tree at the gate.

Yes, the grass has long been growing Over graves upon the "hill"; Where my dear ones dream of heaven But though absent, I remember still!

If I could indeed go back to schooldays Home would seem a cheerless place, Not a friend to give me greetings, Not one dear familiar face!

Heart of mine, in homesick longing Look away, beyond the sky, Where God grant, we'll meet at Father's Reunited in the blessed Bye and Bye.

I now have on hand four car loads of buggies for the spring trade. I make a specialty of the celebrated Cron and Eckhart buggies. Call on me if in need of a buggy, I can please you both in quality and price.

CROP CONDITIONS

Notes on Official Report of Condition of Crops in Ohio, June 1st, 1916 By G. A. Stauffer, Secretary, Board of Agriculture of Ohio.

While the wheat is very generally poor and of thin stand, several counties report marked improvement during the month, but with the improvement noted in some counties, the general condition for the State is only three points higher than shown last month. Present prospects indicate that the average production per acre will be about 10.2 bushels. Under normal conditions, general State average production per acre should be 15 bushels. Not only will the production per acre be low, but the report shows that 14,877 acres or the original area seeded last fall has been abandoned. This leaves 1,577,352 acres now remaining, and as many fields are in such poor condition that they will not pay for harvesting, the area will show a decline from the acreage above quoted.

Following we quote some of Ohio's lowest wheat productions per acre: 1866, eight and one half bushels; 1875, nine bushels; 1884, ten bushels; 1895, twelve bushels; 1896, eight and one half bushels; 1900, six bushels; 1912, ten bushels.

Oat prospects are reported at 83 per cent. compared with a normal production per acre—39 bushels per acre being normal, represented by 100 per cent. in this report. The area seeded to oats for the present harvest is estimated at 1,330,029 acres. From the prospect now reported this should produce approximately 19,668,566 bushels. The crop is badly infested with weeds.

The last of May found a great area of corn not planted. The crop is very irregular. Some ready to be cultivated; some just making appearance. The present prospect of rye is estimated at 79 per cent. compared with a normal yield.

Winter barley shows a prospect of 77 per cent. while the prospect of spring barley is estimated at 86 per cent. compared with an average.

Clover is estimated at 89 per cent. compared with a normal yield. Timothy prospect is estimated at 92 per cent. But small damage is reported by grub worm.

The report shows that the number of hogs being fed for summer markets is slightly in excess of that of last year. The condition of the animals is good.

Fruit prospects are estimated at 82 per cent. compared with a normal yield.

Crinoline in History.

The oft-threatened return of the crinoline, prophesied by alarmists of fashion, leaves us all wondering. We find that the crinoline was first worn in the sixteenth century by a Spanish princess, who used it to conceal her love letters from a forbidden admirer. According to pictures of Queen Elizabeth, she was the first to wear it in England, a writer in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch states. Perhaps she wore it for the same reason. She had need of pockets to hide such, provided all her admirers wrote to her. Among her earlier portraits we find that her dress resembled that of Queen Mary, her sister. The skirts of these were simply widened at the bottom.

I am prepared with a large stock of hand made harness ready for the Spring trade. Give me a call.
